Professor Newell Stultz

Dear Newell,

Confirming Friday's phone conversation, we will be delighted to have you spend Monday, May 2 here with us. If you can arrange to be out here by 10:00 a.m., we will see that you are free around 4:00 p.m. A cab from National Airport to the Agency normally takes about a half hour.

As we discussed, the morning would be spent with you making an informal presentation of say, a half hour or so, followed by at least a half hour of general discussion and questions. In the afternoon I would take you around to some of our southern Africa analysts and let them discuss their current projects with you.

In regard to the topic, I think the question of partition of South Africa in all its various dimensions would be an extremely interesting one. The various federal solutions which have been proposed might also be mentioned, with some comment by you, of course, on the practicality of the various solutions. As I mentioned, the paper need not be formal, or even written for that matter; but I leave this entirely up to you.

If you have any questions about any of the above, please feel free to get in touch with me. My office phone is  Otherwise, I look forward to seeing you on May 2. With best regards to you and the family,
